Prestige International announces the launch of Premio Kempo Assist, a Healthcare Program for Japanese Nationals

Prestige International is now providing a new Healthcare Program called Premio Kempo Assist for Japanese nationals living in the United States. This program complements the suite of high-quality customer service solutions provided for Japanese nationals from Prestige International.

Many international companies utilize Japanese overseas travel insurance programs for employees living or traveling for business outside of Japan. Individuals must submit their claims to the Japanese health insurance associations for reimbursement on medical expenses that are not covered such as pre-existing conditions or dental expenses through a complex series of forms. This process can be very difficult, time consuming and often requires extensive coordination with the attending physicians abroad as well as medical translations into Japanese.

Premio Kempo Assist addresses this issue and provides a Japanese customer service solution that includes a range of benefits to support Japanese individuals and families alike manage their healthcare while living or traveling outside of Japan. Subscribers can rely on Premio Kempo Assist for their healthcare needs.

Subscribers enjoy the following benefits:

- Professional medical referrals through our network of qualified medical providers
- Customer service support in Japanese
- Assistance with complex Medical translations
